TOLD BY THE NAILS.

Various Things Which You May Determine By Their Color and Shape. Fortune telling by means of the fingernails, onychomancy, as it is called, was not uncommon in ancient times, says Medical Classics. The practice was to rub the nail with oil and wax, and to hold up the nails thus prepared against the sun, and upon the transparent horny substance were supposed to appear figures or characters, which gave the answer required. In more recent times people have been found predicting by means of the nails of the hand and telling the disposition of persons with certain descriptions of the nails. However, absurd it may appear, we shall give examples of this superstition: A person with broad nails is of gentle nature, timid and bashful. Those whose nails grow into the flesh at the points or sides are given to luxury. A white mark on the nail bespeaks misfortune. Persons with very pale nails are subject to much infirmity of the flesh and persecution by neighbors and friends. ple with parrow nails are ambitious and quarrelsome. Lovers of knowledge and iberal sentiment have round nails. dolent people have generally fleshy nails. Small nails indicate littleness of mind, obstinacy and conceit. choly people are distinguished by their pale or lead-colored nails; and choleric martial men, delighting in war, have red and spotted nails.

There Are No Happy Days For those who continue to rise unrefreshed somnia, idigestion—these constitute a triple alliance that perpetually wars against man's comfort, and robs both brain and body of tranquility. Combat the trio for a time with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it will give ground and eventually fly the field. The basis of reform is the rectification of digestion, for the brain and nerve trouble is simply a reflex of the disturbance of that all important function. A wineglass ful before each meal of the national stomachic insures facile digestion, and a repeti-tion of the pleasant dose before retiring promotes nerve and muscle invigorating sleep. Associated with indigestion we usually find billiousness and constitution. But together or independent of each other, these maladies are subjugated by the bitters, which also ralgia and malaria. Nearly Killed With Life Preservers, An instance of nearly "killing with kindness" occurred on the East river in New York city. The ferry boat Astoria, bound for Ninety-second street with a huge party of excursionists from Bowery Bay Beach on board, ran down a row boat and upset its occupants, four men, into the water. The excursionists at once threw over so many life preservers and in such frantic fashion hat the four struggling men were overwhelmed with them as they rained down upon them, and were nearly drowned because of this excess of zent.

A strange peculiarity about the clipper ship Henry Falling, Captain Merriman, loading at Philadelphia with oil for Japan, is that none of her sailors, when once joined to her crew, ever care to leave. The chief officer, now a man of twenty-eight years, joined her when a mere lad. She was the first vessel he was ever in, and he has remained there ever since. This is an incident probabiy unprecedented in the annals of shipping. Captain Merriman has never trouble with his crews atthough he has frequently torious seamen despite the fact of having previously been warned of their dangerous character.

Glass Biowers Go Blind. Chamber's Journal notes a terrible circumstance in connection with the Venetian glass industry, and that is that after many years of work, when the workmen are between forty and fifty years of age, they begin to lose their ight, and after a short while are wholly blind. There seems to be no remedy for this state of things, for many protective devices have been tried without success. The blindness is caused by the excessive heat and also by the glare of the never-ceasing flames from the glass
